Seong Wook Han is a senior foreign attorney at Shin & Kim, specializing in cross-border and domestic transactions in the energy, resources and infrastructure sectors. His expertise includes mergers and acquisitions, foreign direct investments, joint ventures and commodity trading, in addition to general corporate and commercial matters.

With extensive experience in corporate business law at LG Group and LX International over twenty years, Mr. Han has focused on cross-border transactions in the energy, infrastructure, and mining industries. He has successfully advised on high-stakes acquisitions, including both minority and majority stakes, across various sectors, such as oil & gas, mines (coal, copper, cobalt, nickel and lithium) mines, petrochemical plants, and power plants, with projects spanning Asia Pacific, Latin America, and the Middle East. His expertise also extends to navigating complex international sanctions, force majeure issues, and compliance with global regulatory standards.

Mr. Han has also provided legal counsel in shareholder disputes, disputes with host governments, market claims, and EPC related disputes. He has managed arbitrations under KCAB, CIETAC, and SIAC rules, and litigations in various jurisdictions including Korea, Indonesia, Singapore, China, Turkey, UAE, Colombia, the Philippines, Czech, and Oman collaborating with outside counsels throughout his tenure at LG and LX.

Mr. Han, who is a native Korean speaker and fluent in English, is an active member of several professional associations, including Korea International Trade Law Association (KITLA) and Korea Private International Law Association (KPILA).
