Mr. Sangmyoung Shin is a partner at Shin & Kim whose practice focuses on project finance, antitrust, artificial intelligence (AI), and cross-border matters. He advises a broad range of domestic and international financial institutions and corporations.

Mr. Shin has extensive experience advising on the development and financing of large-scale projects, with a particular focus on the power, energy, and natural resources sectors. He has represented export credit agencies (ECAs), domestic and international financial institutions, and project sponsors in major project finance transactions across multiple jurisdictions, including power projects in Indonesia and Vietnam, LNG projects in Mozambique, mining projects in Chile and Panama, and offshore wind projects in Taiwan and Korea. His practice also encompasses a broad range of cross-border financing transactions, including ship finance, infrastructure projects, and public-private partnerships (PPPs).

Mr. Shin's practice also extends to cross-border regulatory and compliance matters. He has advised major Korean financial institutions and corporations on economic sanctions and the establishment of sanctions compliance programs. More recently, he has expanded his practice to antitrust and AI-related matters, advising clients on the legal and regulatory implications of rapidly evolving technologies and business environments.

Mr. Shin has been consistently recognized by leading legal publications for his work in project finance and banking and finance. In particular, Chambers Asia has named him a "Leading Individual" in Projects & Energy for seven consecutive years from 2020 to 2026.
